Title of Project:	Corruption in Tanzania: Counting and Franchise Bidding
Type of Product (e.g., Book, Paper, Documentary Film, Serial Article):	Chapter of a Book
Précis of 100 Words or Less:	This chapter is a case study of indirect taxation in Tanzania. It shows how evasion can be documented and quantified, and studies a particular type of reform aimed at curbing evasion: Franchising, or privatizing the right to tax, which has been tried in several Tanzanian towns as a way of collecting vendor fees for access to a public market. He emphasizes the importance of evasion incentives and analyzes directions for institutional reform.
