Title of Project:	Empowerment tools to fight capture and corruption in public programs.
Type of Product (e.g., Book, Paper, Documentary Film, Serial Article):	Paper
Précis of 100 Words or Less:	The paper that is now available evaluates an unusual policy experiment: an information campaign in Uganda aimed at reducing capture by empowering schools (parents) to monitor local officials' handling of a large school-grant program. The situation has improved dramatically since the information campaign started. We find that the newspaper campaign can explain nearly 75 percent of the reduction in local capture since 1995.
